

Launch Workplaces
Gaithersburg, MD
Interior Architecture

Launch Workplaces is a new concept in hybrid workspace centers for individuals, startups and small companies within a Class A building at 9841 Washingtonian Boulevard in the RIO Washingtonian Center in Gaithersburg, Maryland. Located on the second floor overlooking Lake Washingtonian, the more than 16,000-square-foot space, offers a mix of collaborative desks, conference/meeting rooms, and individual and group offices. There are also café/break areas and lounges within the formal and informal spaces.

The design highlights include an all-glass entry to create a sense of openness and bring in natural light, sliding glass conference room doors, reclaimed barnwood along the wall and ceiling in the café, and new, innovative lighting systems. Modern space dividers accentuate the work and lounge areas, while comfortable swivel chairs surround group gathering tables.

Every design decision – from layout to lighting, concrete floors to column art – needed to serve a purpose. Those purposes were to reflect Launch's ideals, facilitate employee productivity, accelerate their mission, and encourage a guest to become involved in building local promise – here or abroad.
